After Jimmy saw the picture of a turtle with a plastic straw in its nose, he decided to take action to help save the environment. He asked some friends for suggestions, and all of them gave him some great ideas.

Jenna:
 Although it's important not to use plastic, there are also many other things to do to help save the Earth. For example, I help clean the beach once a month. You can join me next time.

Alex:
 I always bring a box with me. I use it when I buy food. Besides, it is useful when I'm not able to finish the food at a restaurant. With it, I don't need to ask for a to go box.

Mia:
 I never use disposable tableware. I choose to go to the restaurant with metal tableware. Using metal tableware is also better for our health.

Gary:
 I have three straws, I put them in different places, so I seldom forget to carry my own straw. If I don't have any straws with me, I just don't buy drinks.

📖 suggestion 建議

- ( ) 33. Why did Jimmy ask his friends for suggestions?
 (A) He needs to buy some new tablewares.
 (B) He plans to take photos of turtles.
 (C) He wants to help save the environment.

  - (D) Bring your metal tableware when you go out.

(Question 36.-38.)

Most earthquakes are too small for us to feel, but big ones do hit countries around the world such as Turkey earthquake. What should we do when a big earthquake happens?

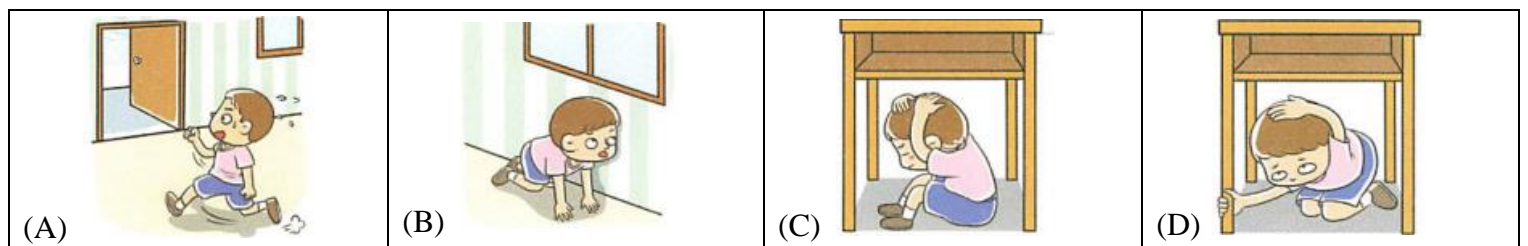

During an earthquake, if you are inside, follow the “Drop, Cover, and Hold on” rule. When you feel the first jolt of the floor, keep a low position. Cover your head and neck with one hand and arm, so even if a falling or flying objects hits you, it won’t hurt you badly. Then look around for a sturdy table or desk. If you see one, hide under it. You should still cover your head and neck with one hand and arm, and hold onto the table and desk with the other hand. If the table or desk moves , move with it. If there is no table or desk near you, sit close to a wall away from falling things and away from windows. Cover your head and neck with both hands and arms.

When an earthquake hits, don’t try to run outside. The shaking might make it difficult and dangerous for you to move. You might fall down, or something falling or flying might hit you. Buildings now are safe and don’t fall down easily. It will be safer inside than outside.

Remember, when you feel an earthquake, drop, cover, and hold on.

Whales are our good friends!

Do you know that whales can capture so much carbon dioxide with their body. This fact is so important for us because we are all facing the serious climate change all over the world. Recently, scientists all work on how to take carbon dioxide out of the atmosphere. They found that krill, phytoplankton, and whales are three key points to stop the climate change. Here are some information about them:

One economist said that a big whale is worth two millions $US dollars and good for our earth. Why? Let's talk about the food first! The whales love to eat krills as their main dish. And the krills feed on phytoplankton, which can absorb the carbon dioxide from the atmosphere and return the oxygen to the atmosphere.

In each year, the phytoplankton can take out 37billion tons of carbon dioxide from the atmosphere. That's really amazing! That is to say, there's about 33 tons of carbon dioxide being kept out of the atmosphere and store in a whale's body. Besides, the whales' poo is also good to the phytoplankton. It can grow better and faster to absorb more carbon dioxide. What a wonderful biological cycle! Whales are really our good friends! Stop hunting them and save the earth together!

(Question 43.-45.)

Are you on a diet right now? Or do you want to make yourself healthier and keep your body in shape?

There's a new way for you to choose. Many people have trouble with their weights, and they have tried a lot of ways to lose weight. Cutting carbs is now a trendy way of dieting. What does cutting carbs mean? That means besides drinking soda or other drinks which has sugar in it, we also stop eating refined starch such as rice, noodles or bread. This kind of food has a lot of carbohydrate in it. Carbohydrate is another kind of sugar in food, so fruit is also food with lots of sugar and most people don't know that. It makes you gain weights and increase the blood sugar. Eating too much food with sugar could also cause disease as diabetes.

How can we start our low-carb diet? Instead of eating rice or bread, we can choose potato, corns, or yam and eat more vegetables and protein in every meal. Divide your plate for three sections: one for carbs, another for vegetables, and the other for fish, meat, or other kinds of proteins. The portion of vegetables and meat should be two times the carbs. If you want to be more efficient, you can try to control the carbs you eat below 60g a day. With this kind of meal, and exercise regularly, losing weight can be an easy task now!
